

The future of Loyalty Club Cards

The Beep Loyalty Club Cards project, designed and engineered by the BeepXtra Team of developers and marketers. It is a conceptual exploration of potential applications of a global community driven loyalty card.

To streamline the future of Loyalty Club Card schemes we have to consider some of the current retail needs, finance stress of small to medium retailers, as well as the flexibility demanded by large retail stores applied through transactional technologies. This means that Beep Cards combine the hardware and software that is interchangeable and learns from use, which changes over time, that degrades retail costs gracefully and that works naturally through existing business processes of any retailer.

In short, imagine a Loyalty Card that is free, adapts to your use patterns over time, and gives you exactly the features and benefits needed for your clients, as well as expanding your reach to a global scale Club Card!

Cash back discount loaded on your card

Beepxtra has an incredibly viral introduction system for people and business

Your business will be found by the clients who are looking for exactly what your business offers

Beepxtra has a geographically targeted product and service search facility

A New Global Phrase...

Do you take beep  Cards Here?
X T R A

